“CHCI has given me the confidence to speak. To ask questions. To put myself in spaces that I more than often believed I did not belong in. It gave me the confidence to walk up to anyone and ask their name or introduce myself no matter who they are. CHCI has given me the experience to determine where I want to be and who I want to be in 10 years.

CHCI gave me the support I needed to consider my dreams and take meaningful steps to go about achieving them. The CHCI family, and the community of people dedicated to your success as a fellow is an invaluable resource that inspires you to keep pushing forward.”
