

PPF PUBLIC POLICY FELLOWSHIP PROGRAM

The CHCI Public Policy Fellowship Program (PPF) offers talented Latinos a paid, nine-month fellowship to accelerate their careers as public policy leaders. Participants will be placed in a congressional office on Capitol Hill for the first half of their fellowship and will have the opportunity to pursue a different placement during the second half that best matches their policy interests. The range of placements includes: congressional offices, committees, federal agencies, the White House, national non-profit advocacy organizations, and government-related institutions.

Applicants to the Public Policy Fellowship Program must have earned a bachelor's degree within three years of the program start date.

CHCI has had a transformative impact on both my personal and professional journey. Through this fellowship, I gained hands-on experience working in Congress, strengthened my policy and advocacy skills, and developed a deeper understanding of what effective and community-centered public service looks like in practice.

CHCI created an environment where I felt encouraged to bring my lived experiences into my work and helped reaffirm my long-term commitment to advocacy, equity, and public service.
